

NATIONAL SENIOR CERTIFICATION EXAMINATION
NOVEMBER 2008

GUIDE TO RESULTS

Introduction

This booklet serves to guide you through your Statement of Results.

The National Senior Certificate (NSC) was written for the first time in 2008. It is a significant milestone in the history of democratic South Africa, namely the first time the major school-leaving examination has been written using the new National Curriculum Statements (NCS). This curriculum was reformed extensively in order to more accurately reflect the skills, knowledge and values of our new democracy: skills and knowledge that our citizens require to compete globally and values that South Africans need to build a stronger democracy than we have.

Rules of subject combination

A learner must offer a minimum of seven subjects.

The approved subjects for the NSC Grades 10 – 12 (General) are grouped in two main categories, namely Group A (A1, A2 and A3) and Group B (B1 to B7 and Other Subjects). A learner must select four subjects, i.e. two official languages (at least one at Home Language level); Mathematical Literacy or Mathematics and Life Orientation from Group A; and a minimum of any three subjects from Group B. One of the three choice subjects may be selected from the Other Subjects group.

Immigrant candidate

An immigrant candidate may offer only one (1) official language on at least First Additional Language level and obtain a rating of 30% in that language, provided that another subject from Group B is offered in lieu of the one official language that is not offered.

Instead of offering another subject from Group B, an immigrant candidate may offer his or her home language in lieu of that one official language, subject to the following:

- Such language is listed on Home Language level in Table B3.
- In the absence of the Home Language of the immigrant in Table B3, such a candidate may offer his or her home language on the A level of the General Certificate of Education (GCE) of the United Kingdom, or an examination recognised by the Department of Education as equivalent to Home Language Level for this purpose.

Entry to subsequent National Senior Certificate Examinations

1. Candidates who have failed the examination and wish to qualify for a school leaving certificate, or who have passed and wish to improve their symbols, may enter subsequent IEB National Senior Certificate Examinations, which are written annually in October / November.
2. Entry forms are available from the Assessment Controller from January each year, and together with the prescribed entry fee, must reach the Assessment Controller on or before 31 March of the year in question.

Despatch of National Senior Certificates

National Senior Certificates will be issued by Umalusi by June / July 2009, and will be distributed by the IEB as arranged with schools.

Please note: The IEB office will be open until 13h00 to answer queries on Tuesday 30 December 2008. The IEB office will then close for the New Year break and will re-open on Monday 5 January 2009.

For any queries regarding your results, please call 011 483 9700; 011 483 9727; 011 483 9726; 011 483 9736 or 011 483 9733.

3.2 Have you passed the NSC with entry to Higher Certificate study?

- 3.2.1 Have you passed an official language on the Home Language level, i.e. 40% or more?
 3.2.2 Have you met the language requirement to qualify for further study? (See 2.2.1)
 3.2.3 Have you passed any 2 other subjects with 40% or more?

If the answer to all three questions is 'Yes', then you have passed the NSC with entry to Higher Certificate study.

3.3 Have you passed the NSC with entry to diploma study?

- 3.3.1 Have you passed an official language on the Home Language level, i.e. 40% or more?
 3.3.2 Have you met the language requirement to qualify for further study? (See 2.2.1)
 3.3.3 Have you passed any 3 other subjects with 40% or more (excluding Life Orientation)?
 3.3.4 Have you passed an additional 2 subjects with 30% or more?

If the answer to all four questions is 'Yes', then you have passed the NSC with entry to Diploma study.

3.4 Have you passed the NSC with entry to bachelor degree studies?

- 3.4.1 Have you passed an official language on the Home Language level, i.e. 40% or more?
 3.4.2 Have you met the language requirement to qualify for further study? (See 2.2.1)
 3.4.3 Have you achieved 50% or more in at least 4 designated subjects? (See 2.4.1)
 Note: If you have achieved over 50% in your official language on the Home Language level (3.4.1), it will also qualify as one of the designated subjects.
 3.4.4 Have you passed an additional 2 subjects with 30% or more?

If the answer to all four questions is 'Yes', then you have passed the NSC with entry to bachelor degree study.

NB: Decisions about admission to a tertiary institution are the prerogative of the institution. The fact that you have achieved the minimum requirements does not necessarily mean that the institution will accept you. Please see 1 and 2.4.4 above.

Reading your Statement of Results

The following certification codes apply:

BD	–	Minimum requirements met for Bachelor's Degree Studies
D	–	Minimum requirements met for Diploma Studies
HC	–	Minimum requirements met for Higher Certificate Studies
NSC	–	Minimum requirements met for a National Senior Certificate
DNQ	–	Did not qualify

Re-marks/Re-checks

The closing date for re-marks/re-checks is 16 January 2009. Please refer to your Statement of Results for further information.

1. Specific institutional and programme needs may have a specific language requirement or require appropriate combinations of recognised National Senior Certificate subjects and levels of achievement. Learners must check their results against specific institutional requirements for the course of study they wish to follow.

2. Pass Requirements for the NSC

2.1 To pass the NSC

A learner must pass:

- One official language at Home Language level at 40%
- 2 other subjects at 40%
- 3 subjects at 30%

Notes

- 2.1.1 It is compulsory for a learner to pass an official language at Home Language level, i.e. at 40% or above.
- 2.1.2 Immigrants are exempt from this provision. Provision as per the immigrant concession will apply in respect of the language requirements, i.e. the learner must obtain a minimum of 30% in an official language, offered at the minimum of First Additional level.
- 2.1.3 If the learner offers two official languages, both at Home Language level, and gets 40% or more in one of the languages but less than 40% in the other, the learner will qualify for a pass in Home Language.
- 2.1.4 Learners may fail one subject, except for the official language at Home Language level, and still pass the examination, provided all other criteria are met. The learner must have completed a portfolio in the subject failed.
- 2.1.5 The learner may fail any one of the other fundamental subjects (a second official language, Mathematics or Mathematical Literacy, or Life Orientation) and still pass the examination as a whole, provided a portfolio in the subject failed has been completed and all other criteria are met.

Please note:

- Mathematics Paper III (Probability, Data Handling and Geometry) is not considered as a separate subject for promotion requirements and hence will not be taken into account when determining whether a learner has met the minimum requirements. However, the subject will be listed on the Statement of Results and the final National Senior Certificate issued by Umalusi.
- Advanced Programme Mathematics and Advanced Mathematics are not registered NSC subjects and hence will not be taken into account when determining whether a learner has met the minimum requirements. The IEB will issue a separate statement of results and a separate IEB certificate for these subjects.

2.2 To pass the NSC with entry to Higher Certificate study

A learner must:

- Pass the NSC (See 1.1).
- Meet the language requirement for further study at a South African institution.

2.2.1 Language requirement for entry to further study

- One of the two official languages offered by the learner must be either English or Afrikaans. To meet the language criterion to qualify for entry to study at a tertiary education institution, the learner must pass either English or Afrikaans at the First Additional level, i.e. at 30% or more.
- A learner who offers 2 official languages at Home Language level, one of which is English or Afrikaans, and the other one of the other official languages, e.g. Zulu, and obtains between 30 and 39% in English or Afrikaans (i.e. does not pass it but obtains 30% or above) and passes the other language, qualifies for entry to further study at a tertiary institution.

2.3 To pass the NSC with entry to Diploma study

2.3.1 A learner must:

- Pass one official language at Home Language level at 40%
- Pass 3 other subjects at 40% (excluding Life Orientation)
- Pass 2 subjects at 30%
- Meet the language requirement for further study at a South African institution. (See 2.2.1)

The key difference between qualifying for entry to diploma study rather than higher certificate study is that the learner must achieve 40% or more in 4 subjects (including the official language at Home Language level, but excluding Life Orientation) rather than just 3 subjects.

2.4 To pass the NSC with entry to Degree studies

A learner must:

- Pass one official language at Home Language level at 40% or more.
- Pass 4 subjects from the designated list at 50% or more. (See 2.4.1 below for the designated list)
- Pass 2 subjects at a minimum of 30%
- Meet the language requirement for entry to further study. (See 2.2.1)

2.4.1 The list of designated subjects which will be in place for 3 years from 2008 is as follows:

- Accounting
- Agricultural Sciences
- Business Studies
- Dramatic Arts
- Economics
- Engineering Graphics and Design
- Geography
- History
- Consumer Studies
- Information Technology
- Languages (one language of learning and teaching at a higher education institution and two other recognised language subjects)
- Life Sciences
- Mathematics
- Mathematical Literacy
- Music
- Physical Sciences
- Religion Studies
- Visual Arts

2.4.2 In respect of Music, it is only the National Senior Certificate Music course that is considered a designated subject. Other music courses, (e.g. UNISA Music) are recognised as NSC subjects but are not considered to be 'designated' for the purpose of qualification for degree studies.

2.4.3 Non-designated subjects may contribute towards the Admission Points Score (APS) and may be recognised as an institution or faculty specific entry requirement. Learners must check their results against specific institutional requirements.

2.4.4 If you have not met the minimum statutory requirements or are short of one requirement for degree studies, you should contact the Admissions Office at the institution you are interested in studying at. The Admissions Office will then advise you of possible options.

2.5 Immigrant status

2.5.1 Learners with immigrant status have a concession in respect of their language requirements.

2.5.2 To pass the NSC, in respect of their language provision, the immigrant learner must offer one official language on at least First Additional Language level and obtain at least a rating of 30% in that language. To qualify for the NSC, the remaining criteria for the qualification must be met.

2.5.3 To obtain entry for study at a higher education institution, the immigrant learner must meet the language requirement to qualify for further study.

2.6 Qualifications offered at tertiary institutions

HESA has informed us as follows:

'All universities are entitled to offer degrees, diplomas and higher certificates but this will only happen once the Higher Education Qualification Framework (HEQF) is implemented. This is unlikely to happen in at least 5 years from next year. Thus, the universities will continue to offer programmes (be it diplomas and or degrees) as they have been doing.'

'Universities of Technology mainly offer diplomas and some B Tech degrees and National Certificates. The Higher Certificate, just like other programmes as outlined in the HEQF, has not yet been developed. What seems to be coming to the fore though is that some comprehensive universities and some Universities of Technology are positioning themselves to move away from offering courses that were traditionally offered by Technikon only, i.e. they want to all offer degrees just like traditional universities.'

3. Tick box checks

3.1 Have you passed the NSC?

- 3.1.1 Have you passed an official language on the Home Language level, i.e. 40% or more?
- 3.1.2 Have you passed any 2 other subjects with 40% or more?
- 3.1.3 Have you passed an additional 3 subjects with 30% or more?

If the answer to all three questions is 'Yes', then you have passed the NSC.
